It's easy finding reasons why other people should be patient.—[Adam Bede.

Ignorance is not so damnable as humbug, but when it prescribes pills it may do more harm.—[Felix Holt.

Blows are sarcasms turned stupid; wit is a form of force that leaves the limbs at rest.—[Felix Holt.

There is no sorrow greater than to love what is great, and try to reach it, and yet to fail.—[Middlemarch.

It seems as if them as aren't wanted here are the only folks as aren't wanted in the other world.—[Adam Bede.

It's always the way with them meek-faced people; you may as well pelt a bag of feathers as talk to them.—[Adam Bede.

Slaven's Effervescent California Fruit Salt

Is prepared from sound, ripe fruit, by an experienced analytical chemist, who has spent years in experimenting on its preparation. It is manufactured by a special process known only to the proprietor. This preparation is a safe, simple and effective remedy for regulating the action of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It is most particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Headache, Heartburn, Acidity of the Stomach, Biliousness, Constipation, Nausea, Sea Sickness, Kidney and liver troubles. Over-indulgence either in eating or drinking etc. as a purifier of the blood in all Scrofulous Diseases, it has no equal. It removes all eruptions from the skin, and has a cooling and invigorating effect on the system. The FRUIT SALT is entirely different from any of the effervescent Salts or Seditive preparations in the market, being manufactured from Fruit. For sale by ap28-ly Osburn & Soemaker.

No story is the same to us after the lapse of time; or rather, we who read it are no longer the same interpreters.—Adam Bede.

Every man's work, pursued steadily, tends to become an end in itself; and so to bridge over the loveless chasms of life.—[Silas Marner.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford the sale of several boxes, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves cough, and whooping cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. It is a back, side, or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Soemaker, drug gists, Reno, Nevada. nov8-eod-d&w

Last week in Tuolumne county, the house, barn, farming implements, etc., of C. O. Drew, about 17 miles above Garrote, were totally destroyed by a fire kindled by a hired man named Morrison, to burn brush. Morrison overworked during the fire and died from exhaustion. The loss will be nearly $4,000.

Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us, seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Diarrhea, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, allow their skin, when for 75 cts. we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them? Sold by Osburn & Soemaker, Druggists, Reno, Nevada.

What Dr. Gardner Says:

Toledo, Ohio, January 1, 1879.—The California Porous Plaster Company, Gentlemen: Please send immediately one gross of your Plaster and calomycin Porous Plaster. I have been using them in my practice for the past three months and find their effects most wonderful, especially in Lung troubles and all affections of the Spine and Kidneys. In my judgment they are far superior to any Plaster manufactured. I can confidently recommend them to my professional brethren. oct30-ly H. H. GARDNER, M. D.

ENGLAND'S SYMPATHY.

The London Times of September 21st said:

"The death of President Garfield can be regarded as hardly less than a national calamity. In all ranks, from the Queen to the peasant, there is a most heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved widow and the injured nation."

The career of President Garfield is of a kind which appeals to the best feelings and the most cherished traditions of our people. His early poverty, his manifold independence, his hard-won attainments, his integrity of character, had all caused his career to be watched as that of a man of exceptional powers and brilliant promise, and he was regarded as standing out very distinctly from among the majority of politicians. Even among the Russian Nihilists, Guiteau's crime will excite nothing but loathing and execration.

There is perhaps less reason for disastrous political consequences from the sudden transfer of power to the Vice President in the present instance than on any former occasion. It is clear that Vice President Arthur, who now assumes the supreme authority, will be restrained by considerations which the public opinion will not allow him, even if he desired it, to ignore.

General Garfield's high and admirable qualities are lost to his country and to us. It may be we will not soon be gratified by the sight of so typical an American at the White House. His short administration, however, will not be barren of important political consequence if it has put an end to the annulling of the executive power by the Senate, and if it should lead, as seems probable, to a serious consideration of the existing Constitutional system so far as the relations of the Vice Presidency to the Presidency are concerned."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: Van ity of human wishes, and the brittle nature of the hopes of a mighty nation, are exhibited in their extreme degree when such a calamity can be brought by the idiotic crime of a small, wild and worthless political adventurer. But the lot of every one of the public loss becomes little in his own sight in view of the woe of the stricken wife, children and mother. He had worthily earned, and had received the crown of a noble career.

Concerning the Hallock-Murphy crusade the Silver State says. "Had the Senate passed the bill, to create a State Board of Equalization, passed by the Assembly last winter, the valuation of the railroad would be uniform in the several counties through which it runs, and if the company objected to paying taxes on that valuation, all the counties interested would have paid their proportion of the expenses of a suit for their collection."

M. Blanc started in life poor and friendless, but with a pluck and courage which nothing could daunt, he applied himself to the gaming table, where, by unwearied patience and industry, he amassed a fortune of twenty million dollars. To the poor and friendless boy of America his successful career affords an encouraging and valuable example.

The death of President Garfield was generally observed by suspension of business throughout the State of Nevada. In our little town of Reno there was a decorous and unanimous exhibition of respect, which causes a feeling of mutual pride and confidence among our business men.

Senator Jones of Nevada will be a very influential man with the Arthur Administration. If he becomes Secretary of the Treasury, Governor Kinkead will be called upon to appoint a new Senator to fill the vacancy until the next Legislature meets.

Three projects are in contemplation for connecting Plumas county with the outside world by rail.

Lincoln's Catafalque Brought from the Tomb to Serve for Garfield.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.

The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says: This morning Mr. Clark, architect of the capitol, received a dispatch from Long Branch directing him to drape the building and prepare a catafalque for the remains of the President in the rotunda of the Capitol. He set carpenters at work at once. They went down into what is called the tomb and brought up the catafalque made first to support the casket of President Lincoln. It was there, but the rich black velvet that had originally covered it, and the symbolic ornaments were gone. Moths had devoured the velvet, and relic hunters had carried away the ornaments. There was only left the framework of rough pine lumber and the platform on which it stood. The catafalque looks like a long chest, two feet and an inch in height, with slightly inclined faces. The dais on which it is to stand is raised seven inches, and is of elliptical shape. The whole will be covered again with rich black velvet, suitably ornamented, and with golden symbols at the corners.

Secretary Blaine's Announcement.

WASHINGTON, September 20.

The President's remains, accompanied by his family, Cabinet friends and escort, will reach here to-morrow morning. The rotunda of the Capitol will be draped in mourning, and a catafalque is being constructed also. It is not known precisely what will be done. The White House is also being prepared for the reception of the remains. The chandeliers have been removed from the east room, and a catafalque is being erected in there. So, if it is decided to lay the remains in state in the White House, everything will be ready. The Guard of Honor will consist of nine general officers of the army, nine officers of the navy, nine officers below the rank of Captain, and twenty-nine picked men of the army. From the porch of the White House a canopy of black will be erected, extending to each room.

Garfield's Mother.

CLEVELAND, September 20.

Mother Garfield is now at Solon with her daughter, Mrs. Larabee. A Herald's special from Solon says: Until three days ago full particulars of the situation were telegraphed with the greatest regularity to friends at Solon. Since that date only meager dispatches were sent, and the suspense of the household can only be imagined.

At five o'clock Tuesday morning the village bell tolled. At six o'clock came a private telegram, as follows:

ELBERON, N. J., September 19.

Mrs. Eliza Garfield: James died at 10:35 this evening, calmly breathing his life away. D. M. SWAIN.

Mrs. Larabee's first thought was not to awaken Mrs. Garfield. The latter was sleeping calmly, and so they did not awaken her until nine o'clock. The old lady then awoke, having slept until eleven o'clock the previous night.

At that hour Mrs. Larabee passed her door, with a heavy heart, and found her up and dressed, reading her bible. It was thought best not to break the news until after Mrs. Garfield had eaten her breakfast. Oddly enough, the old lady did not insist upon hearing the news until after she has finished eating. Then taking the fatal telegram from the shelf, she was about to read it, but Miss Ellen took it from her trembling hands.

"Grandma," said Ellen, "there is bad news."

"Is he dead?" asked the old lady, tremulously.

"He is."

The quick tears started insensibly to her eyes. There was no violent paroxysm of grief. No expression of the face told of the anguish that was within.

"Is it true?" she asked with quivering lips. "Then the Lord help me; for if he is dead, what shall I do?"

A Breaking Heart.

CLEVELAND, September 20.

A Leader's special from Solon says: Mother Garfield gave way for some minutes to uncontrolled grief when she read the dispatch saying that her son's spirit had passed away. She then said: "To-morrow I will be 80 years old, but will not see the beginning of another year. James is gone. I shall not be long after him." Subsequently she repeated with sobs, "He is gone. Oh, I cannot have it so!"

When the paper arrived, she read it with blinded eyes and a breaking heart making noble efforts to restrain her emotion.

Arthur Inaugurated!

Special to the GAZETTE.

WASHINGTON, September 22.

President Arthur again took the oath of office this morning at the Capitol at Washington, in presence of the Cabinet and other prominent officers. Following is a portion of his address: "For the fourth time in the history of our Republic, its Chief Magistrate has been removed by death. All hearts are filled with grief and horror at the hideous crime which has darkened our land, and the memory of our murdered President, his protracted suffering, and his unyielding fortitude, the example and achievement of his life, and the pathos of his death will forever illumine the pages of our history. Summoned to these high duties and responsibilities, and profoundly aware of their magnitude and greatness. Inspired by the constitution, I depend for aid upon Divine guidance, and on the virtue and intelligence of the American people."

After President Arthur had read his address, Blaine and the rest of the Cabinet stepped forward and grasped the Presidents hand.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

[Special to the GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, September 22.

—At ten A.M. this morning 2,500 people had viewed the President's remains in the Capitol at Washington. At 10:30 8,000 more were in line.

—Ex-President Hayes and Hon. S.J. Randall arrived at Washington to-day.

—The members of the Garfield Cabinet have been requested to retain their places.

—Mrs. Garfield, with Mollie and Harry Garfield visited the White House this morning to arrange for the removal of their personal effects.

—President Arthur indicates clearly that there will be no extra session.

—President Arthur has proclaimed Monday, Sept. 26th, as a day of fasting and prayer.

—The Governors of all the States and Territories have been invited to attend the funeral at Cleveland.

At Portland on Tuesday the jury in the case of Julia Clark returned a verdict that the young woman came to her death from a gunshot wound at the hand of Robert W. Lambert. The verdict does not charge Lambert with the commission of any crime. He made a statement to the jury that he was intoxicated at the time and was showing the pistol to the girl when the weapon was discharged with fatal results. He is the only living witness to the tragedy. A charge of murder could scarcely be supported. There seems to be no possible motive for murder, and the general impression is that the death was the result of suicide or accident. The tragedy is invested with an atmosphere of mystery, and the matter will be referred to the Grand Jury for fuller investigation. Lambert is in custody, no bail being allowed as yet.

To the Ladies

The ladies of Reno and vicinity have been invited to meet with the citizens' committee, appointed for the purpose of making arrangements for the observance of President Garfield's funeral, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at Reform Club hall, to make arrangements for properly decorating the theater, where the exercises will take place. Ladies having flowers to contribute for the occasion would confer a favor on the committee by letting them know how many can be secured here, that they may know what to send away for. Messrs. Bragg and Hagerman are the committee appointed to procure flowers.

Maggie C Wins

Following is a description of the trot won by Frank Dodd with Canavan's Maggie C at Sacramento on Tuesday. The third race of that day was a trot for $250, an extra purse for the 2:27 class. M. Canavan named br. m. Maggie C and L. H. Titus named br. m. Echora. The latter had the favorite place in the pool for $80 to $37 50, and her opponent had the pole in the first heat, in which Maggie took the front place and kept it, winning in 2:25. Maggie now sold favorite, as much so as her opponent previously. She took the second easily in 2:26 1/2, and the third, though she was quite lame, in 2:27 1/2.

THE DAY OF MOURNING.

How Monday Next is to be Observed Throughout the State—Reno's Programme.

In all of the California cities and towns Monday, September 26th will be observed by an entire cessation of business. The Governors of every State in the Union have set aside the day for prayer and humiliation. Following is

GOVERNOR KINKEAD'S PROCLAMATION

ISSUED YESTERDAY:

"It has become my painful duty to announce to the people of this commonwealth the death of the Chief Executive of the nation. James Abram Garfield, 20th President of the United States of America, died at Elberon, New Jersey, at 10:35 p. m., September 19, 1881.

A great calamity has fallen upon us. For the second time in the history of the Republic its people stand aghast at the murder of their chosen ruler. Assassination has again stricken from the pedestal to which the suffrages of the American people had lifted him, our foremost citizen.

The nation is humbled; its flags bend low; mourning overspreads the whole land. The world looks on in profound sorrow and wondering pity. The peer of any in the line of illustrious men who have adorned the Chief Magistracy of the Republic, lies dead—foully slain—without shadow of reason. There is little left to do but mourn. Let us abase ourselves before the throne of the Omnipotent and mingle our tears with those of the mother, wife and children of the dead President. Let the sympathy of a nation envelop and upbear them in this dread bereavement.

On Monday, the 26th day of September, 1881, the funeral obsequies of the late President will be concluded. On that day I call upon the people of the State of Nevada to abstain from all secular employments and unite with the several religious, civil and military organizations of their respective localities in appropriate funeral ceremonies, as a tribute to the name and memory of the illustrious dead. Let us moreover pray earnestly for the peace and safety of our country and its government."

A call was inserted in yesterday's GAZETTE for a citizens meeting, and it met with universal approval.

Owing to the short notice given but few assembled at Reform Club hall last evening to discuss, and make arrangements for President Garfield's funeral. Those who were present organized and selected Hon. W. M. Boardman for Chairman and J. F. Alexander for Secretary. After discussion C. S. Varian, A. C. Bragg, Jerry Schooling, J. C. Hagerman and H. H. Beck, were appointed a committee to make all necessary arrangements, and to report to the people through the press.

The committee met to-day according to notice, and hand in the following report to the people:

The committee appointed at the citizens meeting last night for the purpose of making arrangements for a public observance of the funeral of President Garfield met at the office of Hon. C. S. Varian at 9 o'clock this morning, and transacted the following business:

On motion Allen C. Bragg was elected Secretary.

On motion W. H. Bechtel was appointed Grand Marshal, with power to select as many assistants as he may deem necessary.

On motion it was ordered that the citizens of Reno and surrounding country be requested to observe the funeral day of President Garfield on Monday, Sept. 26, by keeping all places of business closed on said day until 3 p. m. That all citizens be requested to join in line of procession and march to the theater, where the following exercises will take place:

First—Music—choir.
Second—Prayer by Chaplain, Rev. W. R. Jenvey.
Third—Remarks by the Chairman.
Fourth—Music—choir.
Fifth—Funeral oration by Hon. C. S. Varian.
Sixth—Music—choir.
Seventh—Benediction, by Rev. C. McKelvey.

On motion the following was adopted as the LINE OF MARCH.

Procession to form on West street, right resting on Chestnut, to move down West, then Commercial Row, thence east to Sierra, thence south to Second, thence east to Virginia, thence north to Commercial Row, thence east to the theatre.

After motion, it was unanimously agreed and ordered as more appropriately representing the significance of the people's tribute, that all join in the procession, and with crape on left arms, walk to the Opera House.

Upon motion, Messrs. Bragg and Hagerman were appointed as a committee to procure flowers for decorative purposes.

It was further ordered that the decoration of the stage be intrusted to the kind ladies of Reno, to whose taste and skill the matter is committed. And that the ladies be respectfully requested to meet at the Reform Club Hall on the morning of Saturday September 24, at 11 o'clock, and to take such action as they may see fit.

Upon Motion, Messrs. Beck and Bragg were appointed a committee on music.

Upon motion the following address to the people was adopted.

Fellow Citizens:—On Monday next all that is mortal of our late beloved Chief Magistrate will be laid away in the tomb. On that day fifty millions of people, with bowed heads and anguish stricken hearts, will, in spirit at least, stand by his grave. It is fitting that the whole people should pay this last tribute of affection and respect to him, who, in life so fully represented in his pure and simple character, the true glory of American citizenship. In accordance with this universal desire, the people of Reno and Washoe county, of every sex, age and condition in life, are respectfully requested to quietly assemble on Monday next at the hour of ten o'clock a. m., at or near the new school house on West street, and then form in funeral procession, to carry out the order of exercises herewith submitted. Come fathers, mothers, sons and daughters, and little children. Come and unite in our funeral ceremonies.

C. S. VARIAN,
J. C. HAGERMAN,
H. H. BECK,
J. SCHOOLING,
A. C. BRAGG,
Citizens Committee.

On motion the committee adjourned to meet Friday evening at seven o'clock at the same place to complete the arrangements.

Fire in Buttery.

Last week, says the Plumas National, a fire occurred at Buttery, destroying almost everything belonging to J. G. Maxwell and family. Maxwell was away from home, and his wife was in bed, having been sick. The children discovered the flames coming from their barn, in which was stored thirty or forty tons of hay. It caught the house, and that was destroyed. Scarcely anything was saved, and the family was literally "out in the cold," without a blanket or a change of clothing. A wagon, harness, tools and farming implements, with furniture and a thousand small articles, make up the list of losses, which will foot up a loss of between $2,000 and $3,000, and not a dollar of insurance.

Hotel and Dwelling Houses for Rent.

C. S. Martin, real estate agent, Virginia street, wishes to rent the Pyramid House, with the range, kitchen and dining-room counter. The hotel has eighteen nice rooms. He also has a dwelling-house containing 6 hard-finished rooms, in Connor's addition near new school house. Price, $22 50 per month. See ad.

Judgment and Taste.

C. A. Loomis is a wonder for enterprise. He is first, last and all the time catering to the varied wants of the people of Reno. He is both fortunate and gifted in his judgment and good taste—his carefully selected stock of corsets, hosiery and underwear, would reflect credit on a much older head than his. Try him in our advice.

A. Loomis.

ANNIS AGAIN.

Sheriff Kyle Will Land Him in Carson, If Possible.

Many railroad men hereabouts believe that it will prove dangerous should an attempt be made to bring Annis, or Allison, back to this State. His desperate courage was well shown when he jumped from the car window near Clark's Station, in this county, and made good his escape. According to the Leader, Sheriff Kyle has received the following additional information:

PUEBLO, Col., September 20, 1881.

MATTHEW KYLE,
SHERIFF OF EUREKA CO., NEVADA:
There is no doubt as to the identity of Annis. I do not think that you can get him. They have got him in Conejos county, where he belongs, and have a heavy guard over him, to keep a mob from hanging him. So, if you were here, it would be impossible to remove him.

H. R. PRICE,
Sheriff of Pueblo county.

Sheriff Kyle has telegraphed to the Governor of Colorado, asking if Annis would be delivered to him on a requisition from Governor Kinkead, and if he receives an affirmative answer he will leave immediately to recover the prisoner, notwithstanding the tenor of the above telegram.

Rescued From Death

William J. Conklin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSA FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will take DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSA. I am convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness.
